It's the Queen's Birthday celebration. There is a day of celebration, feasting and heroic acts of drunkenness planned. But intelligence suggests that a marauding battalion of KILLER ROBOTS has gotten wind of Her Majesty's birthday plans, and they want in on the action! You must stop any attempt by them to infiltrate the castle and make away with party supplies, using your bows, arrows and unstable potions and traps. The robots are armed to the teeth. They're rude, they're mean, and they make for awful party guests!

Prepare for battle at your camp

Killer Robot Party is a fast, fun and tactical action game in development for HTC Vive and Oculus Rift. Taking advantage of motion controls, users must use bows, arrows, potions, traps and the environment to destroy waves of Killer Robots. They're armed to the teeth with swords, shields, lasers, broom-handles and spells - forcing the player to react quickly to emerging threats.

- Beautiful, fully explorable environment
- Varied enemies and weapons
- Castle defence elements
- Easy to pick up, with tactical depth
- Optimised to run on low-end VR setups
